WELCOME

from the IADT Program Chairs

The International Association of Dental Traumatology (IADT) is holding its 18th World Congress in Istanbul, Turkey 19-21 June, 2014.

The only predictable thing with dental accidents is that they will happen. Indeed, roughly one-half of the world's population will suffer dental trauma of some kind during their lifetime. The many possible combinations of injuries make diagnosis and treatment complex and difficult. Successful healing outcomes are intimately linked to the emergency treatment, to correctly evaluating clinical factors, and to making the right treatment decisions.

IADT is a professional organization whose mission is to promote optimal prevention and treatment service in the field of traumatic dental injuries through interaction with dental and medical colleagues, the public and interested parties in education, sports, industry and appropriate governmental agencies.

The treatment of dental trauma is multidisciplinary and involves almost all specialists and general dentists, either in the emergency phase or later as patients in their daily practices. IADT World Congresses are unique forums where the whole multi-disciplinary fields of dentistry meet to discuss the management of dental injuries. Clinicians, researchers, educators, sports dentists and others will attend this important meeting. This is a golden opportunity for interaction and learning experience.

Welcome to Istanbul June 2014.

Dr. Lars Andersson
President IADT

Dr. Ayse Nil Altay

MEETING INFORMATION

The 18th World Congress on Dental Traumatology (WCDT)
will be held in Istanbul, Turkey (June 19-21, 2014).

The city of Istanbul is a vibrant mix of many cultures, due in part to its location (straddling Europe and Asia across the Bosphorus Strait) and, well, in part to its history of getting conquered. The Hagia Sophia, for example, was a church, then a mosque and is now a museum. You'll spot Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Ottoman architecture around town.

Istanbul was recently named a European Capital of Culture, making the city the world's tenth-most-popular tourist destination and listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

The military museum and culture center was renovated and reopened at its present building in 1993 with a very successful and contemporary exhibition concept. Today in 22 rooms about nine thousand pieces from the Ottoman era through World War II are exhibited, out of a total collection of fifty thousand objects. It holds striking historical treasures such as the chain that the Byzantines stretched across the mouth of the Golden Horn to keep out the Sultan's navy in 1453 during the siege of Constantinople. The east wing of the museum is used for temporary exhibitions and important meetings.

Our IADT Congress will be another important meeting hosted by the Istanbul Military Museum.
